

Dear Experian,

I hope this letter finds you well. I am writing to bring to your attention some inaccuracies I have discovered on my credit report. Having conducted a thorough investigation into my credit report, I have found several items that are not as accurate as they should be.

In accordance with our legal framework, specifically 15 U.S. Code 1681e (b), which involves the accuracy of the report, whenever a consumer reporting agency like yourself prepares a consumer report, it is your responsibility to follow reasonable procedures to assure the maximum possible accuracy of the information concerning the individual the report is about.

Moreover, referencing 15 U.S. Code 1681i (5), should there be any inaccurate or unverifiable information found post any reinvestigation of information disputed by a consumer like myself, such an item of the information should promptly be deleted from the consumer's file or modified as appropriate, based on the results of the reinvestigation. You are also required to promptly notify the furnisher of that information that the information has been modified or deleted from the consumer's file.

In light of these provisions and my findings, I am requesting that the following item be removed from my credit report as soon as possible:

Accounts:

1. undefined - This account is being reported inaccurately, and I therefore request it to be removed from my credit report immediately.

Please note that there are no personal details, public information, or inquiries that need rectifying.

Thank you for your prompt attention and action in regards to this matter. Any help that your office can give me towards rectifying this situation will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Emmanuel Kolawole
